

Festo and Rockwell Automation

A partnership built on a shared commitment

Do you find yourself losing time, money and patience integrating devices from multiple suppliers? As a partner of the Rockwell Automation Technology Partner Program, Festo eliminates these pain points with intelligent pneumatics and other related automation products and tools to solve your application challenges.

Pneumatic valve terminals

Festo valve terminals and software tools provide an export to Logix projects, which can embed a valve terminal configuration directly into your software, including description notes, data structures, logic, and parameter values. Other solutions for EtherNet/IP™ or IO-Link have an Enable Key from Rockwell Automation to provide Premier Integration.

Smarter solutions

Smart solutions reduce commissioning, expand functionality, and ease troubleshooting by intelligent integration and easy diagnostics.
